

Radiation Exposure Grant Timeline

Step 1: Confirm Eligibility

- Review eligibility criteria for RECA or RESEP programs
- Verify your role qualifies (e.g., Downwinder, Onsite Participant, Uranium Worker)
- Confirm exposure occurred in a designated area and within the appropriate time frame

Step 2: Gather Required Documents

- Valid photo identification (Driver's License, State ID, Tribal ID)
- Birth certificate or tribal enrollment documentation (if applicable)
- Medical records with diagnosis of a qualifying illness
- Proof of employment or residency:
  - Pay stubs, W-2s, tax returns
- Proof of residency:
  - School, medical, or utility records showing residency
- Death certificate (for deceased claimant)
- Marriage certificate or legal documentation (if applying as spouse or survivor)

Step 3: Schedule Health Screening (Optional but Recommended)

- Contact RESEP for cancer screenings or evaluations
- Obtain clinical documentation verifying diagnosis
- Complete health history and screening consent forms

Step 4: Complete the Application

- Request or download the correct RECA/RESEP application form
- Fill in all required fields clearly and accurately
- Attach all supporting documents
- Sign and date the form
- Make copies of the full application for your records

Step 5: Submit Your Application

- Submit by mail or through the approved portal (if available)
- Use certified mail or tracking (recommended)
- Keep proof of submission (receipt or tracking number)

Step 6: Monitor Your Application

- Track expected response time (30–45 days typical)
- Respond promptly if additional information is requested
- Update contact info if it changes

✔ Step 7: Receive Award or Follow Up

- Review notification letter (approval or denial)
- Follow steps to receive payment or benefits
- If denied, contact a RESEP navigator for appeal support

✔ Optional: Additional Resources

- Schedule an appointment with a RESEP team member
- Attend local education or outreach events
- Share information with family members who may also qualify
